

MINOR IN ECONOMICS

As explained in the Bulletin on Baccalaureate Degree Programs in order to earn a minor in Economics a student must pass Economics 102, 104, 302, 304 and six (6) additional credits in Economics courses at the 400 level. Grades of "C" or better must be earned in all courses which are used to fulfill the minor in Economics. Courses used in the minor may not be taken on a Satisfactory-Unsatisfactory basis.

Only courses in the Economics Department may be counted. Substitutions of courses in other departments are not allowed.

Students who wish to take their 400 level courses at Behrend or Capital Campuses must obtain the approval of the Undergraduate Officer.

A minor can be declared any time after you have been accepted in a major and attained fifth semester classification (60 credits)

A minor certificate will be awarded to each graduate successfully completing the minor. A statement that a Minor in Economics has been conferred will appear on a student's transcript.

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY
Department of Economics
Application for Admission to Minor Program

Name of Applicant				Student Number
	Last	First	Middle
Local Address				Local Phone
Campus Location	College		Current Major	Semester Standing

I understand that satisfactory completion of a minor in economics requires grades of "C" or better in Econ. 2, 4, 302, and 304 plus 6 credits of course work in economics at the 400 level.

Student Signature Date

Courses for the Minor	Semester Completed	Grade	In Progress	Not Yet Scheduled
Required Courses
Econ 102
Econ 104
Econ 302
Econ 304
400-Level Courses
1.
2.

Notes:

A minor certificate will be awarded to each graduate successfully completing the minor. A statement that a Minor in Economics has been conferred will appear on a student's transcript.

APPROVAL SIGNATURES:

Major Adviser Date

Economics Undergraduate Studies Date
609 Kern Building

The Academic Area offering a Minor is responsible for certifying to the University Registrar the successful completion by students of requirements of the minor no later than the end of the twelfth week of the semester in which the students will graduate. Upon approval, the person in charge will reproduce and distribute copies: one to the College Dean for the student's major and one to the student.